

Microsoft Office Project & EPM Consulting, Implementation and Support Services

– from one of the world’s leading Microsoft Enterprise Project Premier Solution Providers.

Technology Associates International specialise in delivering enterprise project management systems, consulting and training services to both public and private organizations. We have specific experience in a wide varieties of industry including but not limited to IT, Professional Services, Defence, Automotive, Manufacturing, Pharmaceutical, Bio-technology, Healthcare, Retail, FMCG, Local and Central Government sectors and which makes us a logical choice as an EPM partner.

Our business strategy is to build long-term, strong relationships with business partners and customers by delivering services on time, within budget, and with the flexibility to meet our customers specific needs.

Technology Associates International remain at the leading edge of the Microsoft Project & EPM technologies and are one of only eleven Microsoft Enterprise Project Premier Solution Providers worldwide. In addition the company is the only Project Premier Partner to be a member of the Microsoft Worldwide Consulting Services Programme and have recently been trusted advisers on the Microsoft

Official Curriculum for Microsoft Project. As one of the first companies to have implemented EPM solutions for some of the early adopter clients of Microsoft Project 2002, 2003 and 2007 and already having had early input into the next version, our technical consultants have some of the most extensive experience possible with the latest EPM solution. This experience is honed from working on all sizes of EPM deployment from small departmental pilots to some of the largest EPM deployments ever undertaken.

We continually refine technologies, processes, project management, and delivery methods with the aim of becoming the EPM solution provider of choice for all of our customers. We develop tools to optimize and support enterprise solutions and enhance software capabilities to meet specific business needs. Our dedicated development team allows us to assign programmers and development specialists to custom coding, integration solutions, tailored utilities and software design to meet customer’s stringent and challenging requirements.
