Technology Associates Limited receives Industry Award for “Most Innovative Project Management Consultancy”

Technology Associates Limited Earns unique award through Demonstrated Innovative Solutions and approach to Project Management.

London, United Kingdom — December 8th, 2015 — Technology Associates Limited today announced it had been awarded the “Most Innovative Project Management Consultancy” Award in the recent Technology Innovator Awards program. The award provides recognition of the company’s ability to implement fresh new thinking and innovative approaches to programme and project management (PPM) with their clients. Their approach allows companies to adopt a level of governance, control and reporting in managing programmes and projects that is both simple and highly effective.

Kelvin Kirby, CEO, commented, “We are delighted to be the recipient of this award. There was a lot of competition. This is by no means our first award for innovation in this area, but it is still significant recognition and testament to the business and the consulting staff that work in our team. I am so proud of the team and the work they have done, and I am proud of what we achieve for our customers. Our aim is always to listen, discuss and agree an approach that is best suited for the customer’s business. Once we are able to get into the mindset of the organisation, we can design and implement on that basis.”

The company has had a long history of implementing software-based solutions for project management, particularly those based on the Microsoft platform. “We continue to promote, advocate, develop and implement solutions based on Microsoft Project, Project Server, Project Online, SharePoint and Office 365,” said Kirby. “It’s almost second nature for us now. And we have some great tools available to help migrate customers from on-premise to cloud, as well as from other applications. Cloud is increasingly the way to go as it reduces costs dramatically and negates the need for infrastructure, and (to a large degree) patch management”.

Commenting further, Kirby said, “We are passionate about what we do here, and, more importantly, we are passionate about what we can do for our customers, and to be able to transform their businesses through our consulting, support and training services. Our goal is to become a trusted advisor and partner to our customers.”

The company delivers a range of services in many technology areas including Microsoft Project, Project Server, Project Online, SharePoint, Office 365, Windows 10 (and earlier), as well as social media and business management.

Technology Associates is a Microsoft Gold Competency Partner in PPM and Midmarket Solutions and that is a reflection of its ability to meet Microsoft customers’ evolving needs in today’s dynamic business environment. To earn a Microsoft Gold Competency, organisations must complete a rigorous set of tests to prove their level of technology expertise, have the right number of Microsoft Certified Professionals, submit customer references and demonstrate their commitment to customer satisfaction by participating in an annual survey.

“This award immediately differentiates us from the competition and establishes us as a preferred partner for many companies requiring consulting in Microsoft Project or related applications and services. We are committed to serving the needs of customers who rely on Microsoft-based solutions,” said Kelvin Kirby, CEO. “We look forward to helping our customers realize their full potential by continuing to focus our areas of technology expertise in response to today’s business needs.”
